

DATA SCRAPING PROJECT

Problem Statement

- The problem statement here is to scrape and analyze data from the recently concluded Lok Sabha elections from the official election Commission of India results <https://results.eci.gov.in>.
- The goal is to derive key insights from the election data scraped from the website and compile them to form a comprehensive report.

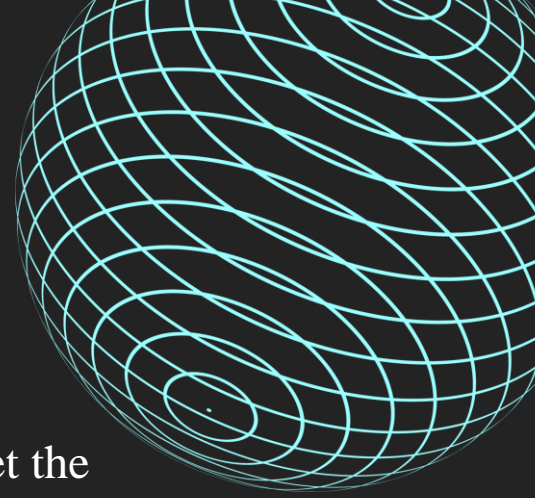

Introduction

This report's goal is to provide a thorough overview of the just finished Lok Sabha elections. The data used in this research was collected from Election Commission of India Results, the official website for election results. The main goal is to extract important information about the election results, such as vote shares, victorious candidates, party performance, and other noteworthy patterns.

DATA SCRAPING

Instant Data Scraper, an online scraping tool, was used to get the data for this research. Using this tool, the official Election Commission of India website's detailed election results were extracted. The insights in this report were generated by cleaning, processing, and analysis of the retrieved data.
